

Question of the Week (October 2024)

Question #2; Describe what aspects of trinity, you find most meaningful and impactful in your spiritual journey.

The music!

The message! Family time with some of my favorite people. Music. Missions, missions, missions! I always leave with a smile....

The music, the Eucharist, the fine preaching, the fellowship, working in the canteen..

Liturgy, lessons in psalms, outreach, forums, beauty of service, music

When going through difficult times I don't feel so alone. My Trinity friends. When people ask how are you, they truly mean it. Father Galagher and then Father Glenn gave the most inspiring messages that leave me thinking long after Sunday. It's encouragement for that week.. Rayleen and the care aspects of trinity.

Fellowship, support, music, church, family, friendships, meeting new people.

Support!.

We continue our commitment to Trinity to the music, outreach, and joy! Trinity is a loving environment which we cherish.

Music, fellowship, and opportunity to freely explore what it means to be a Christian..

Glenn's sermons, the opportunity to work with others..

Over the years, there have been many different things. Programs offered, sermons, Sunday school, adult class, Iwai (?), see, choir, bell choir, Sunday morning, worship, coffee hour, pickle ball, ushering, altar Guild, Bible study.

The community!.

Camaraderie. Help with problems..

The care with which hymns and anthems are chosen to reflect and reinforce the readings..

God through Christ, through friends and faith and music!.

Liturgy and people and Glenn.

At first, it was the sermon, then the music, then the friendly people. Now it is also the faith based community that lives, the mission of service, support and love!.

The wonderful church, family and history of this church. I have been here since birth..

Music, message, ministry, to others, pastoral care, community outreach.

I appreciate the loving understanding of the Trinity family. Trinity music is of the highest quality and wonderful every Sunday. Well-rounded family meeting many spiritual blessings.

The presence of Christ at times in my life.

The music is inspiring!

The music inspires me. The sermons also (educational too!). The sanctuary architecture and big window speak to me. The sense of community too.

Music, sermons, parishioners, forum.

The music for sure, but also Father Glenn and warmth of the congregation.

Music drew me here and continues to spiritually uplift me. Our sincere, loving community lifts me. Our brilliant priest lifts me.

I love the care and attention to worship and liturgy. It is contemplative and spiritually fulfilling for me.

The care and support from the Trinity family, which continues through the week.

Cake; Icing; Father Glenn's sermons are well presented as another cherry on top of cake layers; a loving church community who work in worship together very well. Caring people!

Father Glenn's sermons! The liturgy! The music! The focus on missions! The active, diverse and loving congregation!

Father Glenn's carefully written sermons where he explains what life was like in Jesus' time so that we can get a context for the words of the Gospel and epistles. Other aspects are the ministries outside Trinity carried on by members. For example, Barbara Chaffee's ministry to AIDS patients in the southern tier, Bruce Parmalee's trips to conflict areas where he helped in rebuilding efforts, Darleen Croston's two tours of duty in Afghanistan with the US military, and Bruce Borton's ministry of music locally. These are only examples, not a complete list...

When you come here, you find peace. Most days everything is hectic. Not here. You find hope, reflection and peace.

The people! The longer I'm here, the more I love the people of Trinity!
